

Contents

| | |
|---|------------|
| Photographic Acknowledgements | x |
| PART I THE POSITION OF VICTORIAN SCULPTURE | 1 |
| 1 'The dulled perception, and uneducated apathetic eye' | 3 |
| 2 Here today, gone tomorrow | 25 |
| PART II THE LIFE AND THE WORKS | 47 |
| 3 The Making of Sculpture | 49 |
| 4 Practice and Ideology | 66 |
| 5 Patronage | 79 |
| Opportunities | 79 |
| National and local government | 82 |
| Institutions | 120 |
| Private patrons | 128 |
| 6 Formal Options | 147 |
| Portrait statues | 147 |
| Busts | 171 |
| Funerary monuments | 186 |
| Ideal works | 199 |
| PART III CLASSES APART | 213 |
| 7 Architectural Sculpture | 215 |
| Classical | 215 |
| Gothic: secular | 231 |
| Gothic: religious | 244 |
| Burges and Scott | 263 |
| 8 The Painter-Sculptors | 273 |
| PART IV THE END OF THE CENTURY | 287 |
| 9 The New Sculpture | 289 |
| 10 Something new, something old | 327 |
| References | 387 |
| Bibliography | 397 |
| Index | 404 |