

Contents

List of Illustrations vii

List of Tables ix

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction. Machinists' Traces 1

PART I THE FORMATION OF THE NETWORKS, 1790–1820

1 Iron Foundries Become Early Hubs of Machinist Networks 25

2 A Networked Community Built by Cotton Textile Machinists 50

3 The Federal Armories and Private Firearms Firms Operate in Open Networks 73

PART II THE ELABORATION OF THE NETWORKS, 1820–1860

4 Iron Foundries Rule the Heavy Capital Equipment Industry 107

5 Networked Machinists Build Locomotives 146

6 Resilient Cotton Textile Machinist Networks 172

7 The Cradles of the Metalworking Machinery Industry 217

8 Machine Tool Networks 240

9 Machinists' Networks Forge the Pivotal Producer Durables Industry 272

Abbreviations 281

Notes 283

Essay on Sources 301

Index 307