

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: life-writing and the legitimation of the modern self	i
Patrick Coleman
1 Revising Descartes: on subject and community	16
Timothy J. Reiss
2 The “man of learning” defended: seventeenth-century biographies of scholars and an early modern ideal of excellence	39
Peter N. Miller
3 Life-writing in seventeenth-century England	63
Debora Shuger
4 Representations of intimacy in the life-writing of Anne Clifford and Anne Dormer	79
Mary O’Connor
5 Gender, genre, and theatricality in the autobiography of Charlotte Charke	97
Robert Folkenflik
6 Petrarch/Sade: writing the life	117
Julie Candler Hayes
7 A comic life: Diderot and le récit de vie	135
Stephen Werner

8	Letters, diary, and autobiography in eighteenth-century France Benoît Melançon	151
9	Portrait of the object of love in Rousseau's Confessions Felicity Baker	171
10	Fichte's road to Kant Anthony J. La Vopa	200
11	Mary Robinson and the scripts of female sexuality Anne K. Mellor	230
12	After Sir Joshua Richard Wendorf	260
	Index	280