

Natalie Braber, Jonnie Robinson

East Midlands English

DE GRUYTER MOUTON

Contents

List of Figures — IX

List of Tables — X

Acknowledgements — XI

Map of the East Midlands — XII

1 Geography, demography, and cultural factors — 1

1.1 Introduction — 1

1.2 Geography of the East Midlands — 1

1.3 History of the region and its language — 3

1.4 Language in the East Midlands — 6

1.5 Demography — 8

1.6 Trade and culture — 8

1.7 Representation of the East Midlands in popular culture — 10

1.8 Conclusion — 15

1.9 Sources consulted for this volume — 16

2 Phonetics and phonology — 20

2.1 Introduction — 20

2.2 Vowels — 22

2.2.1 Short vowels — 22

2.2.2 Long vowels — 32

2.2.3 Unstressed vowels — 49

2.3 Consonants — 55

2.3.1 Plosives — 55

2.3.2 Nasals — 57

2.3.3 Fricatives — 58

2.3.4 Laterals — 59

2.3.5 Glides — 61

2.4 Connected speech processes — 63

2.4.1 Elision — 63

2.4.2 Liaison — 68

2.4.3 Substitution — 69

2.4.4 Miscellaneous — 70

2.5 Conclusion — 72

3	Morphology and syntax — 76
3.1	Introduction — 76
3.2	Determiners — 77
3.2.1	Demonstratives — 77
3.2.2	Articles — 78
3.3	Nouns — 80
3.3.1	Plural — 80
3.4	Pronouns — 81
3.4.1	Personal pronouns — 81
3.4.2	Possessive pronouns — 82
3.4.3	Reflexive pronouns — 83
3.4.4	Relative pronouns — 84
3.5	Verbs — 85
3.5.1	Be — 85
3.5.2	Have — 87
3.5.3	Past — 89
3.5.4	Infinitive phrase — 89
3.5.5	Other — 93
3.6	Negation — 94
3.6.1	Auxiliary contraction — 94
3.6.2	Secondary contraction — 95
3.6.3	Dialectal <-na> & none — 96
3.6.4	Vernacular ain't , don't & multiple negation — 97
3.7	Prepositions — 99
3.7.1	Preposition deletion — 99
3.7.2	Preposition substitution — 100
3.7.3	Double prepositions — 101
3.8	Adverbs — 101
3.8.1	Intensifiers — 101
3.8.2	Unmarked adverbs — 102
3.8.3	as , so (as) , that — 102
3.8.4	Otiose what — 103
3.9	Discourse — 104
3.9.1	Forms of address — 104
3.9.2	Narrative devices — 105
3.9.3	Like — 105
3.10	Conclusion — 107

- 4 Lexis — 111
 - 4.1 Introduction — 111
 - 4.2 Past research on East Midlands vocabulary — 113
 - 4.2.1 Nationwide lexical studies which include the EM — 113
 - 4.2.2 Contemporary East Midlands language collections — 114
 - 4.3 Place names — 115
 - 4.3.1 Celtic influence — 115
 - 4.3.2 Roman influence — 116
 - 4.3.3 Anglo-Saxon influence — 116
 - 4.3.4 Viking influence — 117
 - 4.3.5 Norman influence — 119
 - 4.4 Case studies — 120
 - 4.4.1 Mining-related vocabulary — 120
 - 4.4.2 Farming language — 126
 - 4.5 Popular local language — 131
 - 4.5.1 Cob — 133
 - 4.5.2 Mardy — 134
 - 4.5.3 Duck — 136
 - 4.5.4 Other local expressions — 138
 - 4.6 Conclusion — 143

- 5 Annotated transcripts — 145
 - 5.1 Kniveton, Derbyshire — 145
 - 5.1.1 Glossary — 146
 - 5.1.2 Phonological points of interest — 146
 - 5.1.3 Grammatical points of interest — 148
 - 5.2 Oxtun, Nottinghamshire — 149
 - 5.2.1 Glossary — 150
 - 5.2.2 Phonological points of interest — 151
 - 5.2.3 Grammatical points of interest — 152
 - 5.3 Ullesthorpe, Leicestershire — 153
 - 5.3.1 Glossary — 154
 - 5.3.2 Phonological points of interest — 155
 - 5.3.3 Grammatical points of interest — 156
 - 5.4 Swadlincote, Derbyshire — 157
 - 5.4.1 Glossary — 158
 - 5.4.2 Phonological points of interest — 158
 - 5.4.3 Grammatical points of interest — 160

5.5	Nottingham — 160
5.5.1	Glossary — 162
5.5.2	Phonological points of interest — 162
5.5.3	Grammatical points of interest — 163
5.6	Leicester — 163
5.6.1	Glossary — 165
5.6.2	Phonological points of interest — 165
5.6.3	Grammatical points of interest — 167
6	Annotated bibliography and references — 168
6.1	Geography, demography, and cultural factors — 168
6.2	Phonetics and phonology — 169
6.3	Morphology and syntax — 170
6.4	Lexis — 171
6.5	References cited in this text — 172
	Index — 181