

A SHORT HISTORY
OF THE
RENAISSANCE
IN EUROPE

MARGARET L. KING

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS

CONTENTS

- List of Maps • xii
- List of Illustrations • xii
- List of Figures, Graphs, and Tables • xii
- Acknowledgments • xvi
- Introduction: The Idea of the Renaissance • xvii

CHAPTER ONE: Italy and Rome: From Roman Republic to Secondo Popolo

- (c. 500 BCE–1300 CE) • I
- The Romanization of Italy • 2
- Invasion and Destruction • 5
 - Early Migrations* • 5
 - FOCUS: Monte Cassino • 6
 - Germanic Incursions* • 8
- Cathedral and Monastery • II
 - The Authority of the Bishops* • 12
 - The Origins of Monastic Life* • 13
- Emperor and Pope • 15
 - The Development of the Holy Roman Empire* • 15
 - Gregory VII and the Drive for Papal Supremacy* • 18
- Commerce and Reurbanization • 20
 - Decline of the Roman Economy* • 20
 - VOICES: How to Succeed in Business • 22
 - The Flourishing of Maritime Trade* • 23
 - The Expansion of Trading Networks* • 24
- The Communal Revolution • 25
 - Alliance of the Magnates* • 26
 - Triumph of the Lombard League* • 27
- The Coming of the Popolo • 28
 - Merchant Guilds* • 29
 - FOCUS: The Battle of Legnano, 1176 • 30
 - Conflict between Pope and Emperor* • 32
 - The Rebellion of the Popolo* • 33
- Conclusion • 34
- Suggested Readings • 34

CHAPTER TWO: An Age of Republics (c. 1250–c. 1350) • 37

- Florence: Banking and Wool • 39
 - Banking* • 39
 - FOCUS: Florence • 40
 - Wool and the Wool Guilds* • 42
 - The Guilds and Civic Life* • 43
 - Revolt of the Ciompi* • 43

FOCUS: Venice	•	44
Venice: Shipbuilding and Trade	•	46
The Growth of Venice	•	48
Shipbuilding and the State	•	48
The Venetian Nobility	•	49
Urban Renewal: Walls, Buildings, and Spaces	•	50
Walls	•	50
Buildings	•	51
Vita Civile: Urban Culture in a Republican Age	•	52
The Jurists	•	53
The Secretaries	•	54
VOICES: Yearning to Be Free	•	56
Dante and Giotto: Innovators before the Dawn of the Renaissance	•	57
Dante Alighieri	•	57
Giotto di Bondone	•	59
VOICES: Petrarch's Letter "To Posterity"	•	61
Boccaccio and Petrarch: Inaugurators of Renaissance Thought	•	62
Boccaccio	•	62
Petrarch	•	63
Republics and Principalities	•	64
The Black Death	•	67
Conclusion	•	71
Suggested Readings	•	71

CHAPTER THREE: Human Dignity and Humanist Studies: The Career of Humanism

(c. 1350–c. 1530)	•	73
The Recovery of Classical Antiquity	•	75
FOCUS: Personal Space	•	76
Roman Works	•	78
Greek Works	•	79
The "Studies of Humanity"	•	81
The Idea of Humanist Education	•	82
Humanist Educational Treatises	•	83
The Dignity of Man	•	86
Giannozzo Manetti	•	87
Pico della Mirandola	•	88
Civic Humanism	•	90
VOICES: Barbaro and Pico	•	91
Proposing New Values: Poggio and Valla	•	92
Praising the City: Bruni	•	93
VOICES: Valla's Logic	•	94
Women and Humanism	•	96
Early Female Humanists	•	96

Later Female Humanists: Nogarola, Cereta, Fedele	•	97
VOICES: Women and Humanism in Renaissance Italy	•	98
Humanism, Philosophy, and Scholarship	•	101
Philosophy: Aristotle and Plato	•	101
Other Schools	•	102
Printing	•	103
Textual Scholarship	•	104
The Sociology of Humanism	•	105
FOCUS: Aldine Editions	•	108
Conclusion	•	110
Suggested Readings	•	110
CHAPTER FOUR: New Visions (c. 1350–c. 1530)	•	113
Breakthroughs in Style	•	115
Perspective: The Artful Construction of Reality	•	118
Patronage and Patrons	•	120
Types of Patronage	•	121
FOCUS: New Visions	•	122
Florence and Milan	•	124
Ferrara, Mantua, and Urbino	•	124
Music	•	125
Architecture and Urbanism	•	126
The Rediscovery of Classical Architecture	•	126
Churches	•	128
Secular Buildings	•	129
FOCUS: Brunelleschi's Dome	•	130
VOICES: Artists and Patrons in Urbino and Venice	•	132
City Planning	•	133
Portraits and Personality	•	134
Portraits and Self-Portraits	•	134
VOICES: Isabella d'Este	•	136
Equestrian Portraits and Tombs	•	137
Art and the Everyday	•	138
City and Country Settings	•	139
Interiors	•	140
From Artisan to Genius: The Evolution of the Artist	•	141
Vasari	•	141
Alberti	•	143
Leonardo	•	144
Women Artists	•	145
The High Renaissance (c. 1500–1530)	•	145
Rome	•	146
Venice	•	148
Conclusion	•	149
Suggested Readings	•	149

CHAPTER FIVE: At Home and in the Piazza (c. 1350–c. 1530)	•	153
Public Life	•	154
Social Structure	•	155
FOCUS: Prostitutes and Courtesans	•	156
Associations	•	161
Social Control	•	165
VOICES: Riot, Plague, and Punishment	•	167
FOCUS: The Jewish Community in the Italian Renaissance	•	168
Private Life	•	171
The Household	•	171
VOICES: Death and Consolation	•	172
Patriarchy, Property, and Marriage	•	173
VOICES: The Duties of a Wife	•	176
Women and Children	•	177
FOCUS: Childbirth and Childrearing in Renaissance Italy	•	180
Conclusion	•	184
Suggested Readings	•	184
CHAPTER SIX: The Church and the People (c. 1350–c. 1530)	•	187
Papacy and the Papal State	•	188
The Rise of the Papacy	•	188
FOCUS: Popes and Cardinals	•	192
Challenges to the Papacy	•	194
Popular Religion	•	195
Paganism and Heresy	•	195
The Mendicant Movements	•	196
Confraternities	•	198
VOICES: Brothers (Sisters) in Christ	•	200
Holy Women	•	204
Saints and Martyrs	•	204
FOCUS: Holy Women and Unwilling Nuns	•	202
Catherine of Siena	•	206
Francesca of Rome	•	206
Catherine of Bologna	•	208
Catherine of Genoa	•	208
Angela Merici	•	209
Pastors of the Flock	•	210
Archbishops and Bishops	•	210
Preachers and Visionaries	•	211
Bernardino of Siena	•	212
Girolamo Savonarola	•	213
Conclusion	•	215
Suggested Readings	•	215

CHAPTER SEVEN: Statecraft and Warcraft (c. 1350–c. 1530)	•	219
The Tide of Despotism	•	221
The Organization of Violence	•	222
FOCUS: Warriors for Hire	•	224
Padua and Verona	•	226
The Visconti in Milan	•	227
Ferrara, Mantua, and Urbino	•	227
The Papal States and the Two Sicilies	•	228
VOICES: A Despot's Advice and a Republican's Lament	•	229
Freedom versus Tyranny	•	231
Balance of Power	•	232
Councils and Commissions	•	233
FOCUS: The Machinery of Government in Venice	•	234
The Trend toward Oligarchy	•	236
Administering Justice	•	237
Raising Revenues	•	237
FOCUS: The Medici	•	238
Diplomacy	•	240
Venice and Florence Expand	•	241
Military Organization	•	242
War and Peace	•	242
Invasion and Conquest	•	243
The French Invasion to the Battle of Fornovo	•	246
The Great Captain and the Conquest of Naples	•	246
Julius II and the Battle of Agnadello	•	247
The Holy League and the Battle of Marignano	•	247
Habsburg versus Valois to the Battle of Pavia	•	247
The Sack of Rome	•	248
The Return of the Medici	•	248
VOICES: The Republican Spirit in Florence	•	249
Conclusion	•	250
Suggested Readings	•	250

CHAPTER EIGHT: The Crisis and Beyond (c. 1500–c. 1650)	•	253
The Machiavellian Moment	•	254
Machiavelli's Career	•	254
Machiavelli's Thought	•	257
Machiavelli's Political Vision	•	262
Courts and Princes: Castiglione's The Courtier	•	263
Book One	•	264
Book Two	•	265
Book Three	•	266
Book Four	•	267
Influence	•	270

The States of Italy after c. 1530	•	270
Ideas and the Arts in Late Renaissance Italy	•	272
The Visual Arts	•	273
FOCUS: Womanly Perspective	•	274
The Performing Arts	•	277
Literature and Literary Trends	•	281
FOCUS: The Origins of Opera	•	278
VOICES: Pietro Aretino, “Scourge of Princes”	•	282
Science, Medicine, and Philosophy	•	283
VOICES: Women and Love	•	284
Conclusion	•	285
Suggested Readings	•	286

CHAPTER NINE: The Renaissance and the Two Reformations

(c. 1500–c. 1650)	•	289
Visitors and Emissaries	•	291
Printing, Humanism, and Reform	•	293
The Manuscript Book	•	293
The Printed Book: Early Years	•	296
The Printed Book: Later Developments	•	297
FOCUS: The English Century	•	298
Erasmus, More, and Vives	•	301
Erasmus	•	301
FOCUS: The Enchantments of Nowhere	•	306
More and Utopia	•	308
Vives and the Erasmian Mission	•	309
The Reformations and the Humanist Tradition	•	312
Protestants	•	312
VOICES: Luther and Calvin on Liberty and Free Will	•	314
The Catholic Response	•	316
VOICES: The Catholic Response: The Council of Trent, Ignatius of Loyola, and Teresa of Ávila	•	317
Intersections	•	320
Conclusion	•	322
Suggested Readings	•	322

CHAPTER TEN: The Renaissance beyond the Alps: Cities, Courts, and Kings

(c. 1500–c. 1700)	•	325
Contexts: Kingdoms, Courts, and Cities	•	326
Kingdoms	•	326
Courts	•	330
Cities	•	333
FOCUS: Early Modern Cities	•	334

Centers of the Renaissance beyond the Alps	•	337
Spain and Portugal	•	337
VOICES: Spanish Sketches	•	339
The Low Countries	•	343
FOCUS: The Low Countries: Interiors and Exteriors	•	344
France	•	348
The British Isles	•	352
VOICES: In Search of Authenticity	•	353
The German Lands	•	357
Northern and Eastern Europe	•	359
Conclusion	•	360
Suggested Readings	•	361

CHAPTER ELEVEN: The Renaissance and New Worlds (c. 1500–c. 1700) • 363

The New World in the Ocean Sea	•	365
The Mediterranean	•	365
FOCUS: The Renaissance and Globalization	•	366
Portuguese Ventures	•	368
Spanish Exploration and Conquest	•	368
Indigenous Peoples, Africans, and the Slave Trade	•	370
North America and the Triangle Trade	•	371
The Impact on European Consciousness	•	373
New Heavens, New Earth	•	374
Cosmographical Revisions	•	376
VOICES: Scientific Observers	•	380
Other Scientific Advances	•	381
VOICES: Discerning Truth	•	383
New Ways to Reason	•	384
FOCUS: Educating the Few—and the Many	•	386
Toward Enlightenment	•	388
Readers and Learners	•	388
Women and the World of Learning	•	390
FOCUS: The Worth of Women	•	392
Conclusion	•	395
Suggested Readings	•	396

Glossary	•	398
Credits	•	408
Index	•	410